And the Big Surprise...

Congresswoman Sanchez is going green with her holiday card this year—
And your favorite non-profit could be the big winner!

Last week, we told you that a big surprise was in store for Congresswoman Loretta Sanchez's annual holiday cards this year. After years of mailing cards to constituents, friends and family, Loretta is doing something different this year - she is going green with her holiday card!

Instead of printing thousands of cards this year, Loretta will instead make donations to Orange County non-profits in need by sponsoring a holiday donation competition.

"In light of these tough economic times and given the continued focus on climate change, there was no question that for the first time ever, the right thing for me to do this year was to go green with my holiday cards," said Loretta. "Those who typically receive my cards will still receive my card, only this year they will receive an electronic version. And with the money we normally spend on printing and mailing the cards, my campaign will give donations to needy non-profits in Orange County through a competitive application process."

Your favorite non-profit could be the winner. Click here for more information and to apply today!
